Pakistan Life Savers Programme (PLSP)

The Pakistan Life Savers Programme (PLSP) is a consortium of leaders in the field of resuscitation. The primary mandate of the PLSP is to train the community members in the skills of "Hands-Only CPR" and "Bleeding Control" and improve the outcomes of patients with cardiac arrest and traumatic bleeding. The partner institutes including the Aga Khan University, Shaheed Mohtarma Benazir Bhutto Institute of Trauma (SMBBIT) and many others. For more information visit: www.plsp.org.pk

The Resuscitation Academy Foundation

The Resuscitation Academy, USA is the global leader in the field of out-of-hospital cardiac-arrest resuscitation. They are also a key partner of the Pakistan Life Savers Programme (PLSP), helping to build leaders in the field of resuscitation. Their mission is to save more lives of patients with "out-of-hospital-cardiac-arrest" by implementing a concrete plan of action including capacity building through life-saving training workshops and resource-sharing, ultimately raising the bar on global resuscitation standards.
